The no of scholarships usually awarded to male candidates every year is 2 and so the proposals of the ~~Secretary~~ Dy of Edn involve an extra expenditure of Rs 120 a year during the 1st year, Rs 240 in the second year and so on for the whole course of 5 years in the Case of MB Candidates & 4 years in the Case of L.M.P.S. Subject:—

Paper under disposal

In the Representative Assembly meeting of 1917 it was urged that the rates of scholarships at present awarded to students who undergo training to qualify themselves for the several classes of medical service were inadequate and that the same may be fixed on a more liberal scale. Government had the matter of enhancing scholarships to female candidates already in view and the Senior Surgeon had submitted proposals in his letter dated the 10th September 1917 with reference to Government order dated the 11th June 1917. The Senior Surgeon proposed, with a view to induce local women to accept medical scholarships, to enhance the Sub Assistant grade scholarships to Rs.20 and University scholarships to Rs.50. When the matter came up before me in October 1917, I suggested that the whole scheme of scholarships for training women in the various grades - University to midwifery - may be dealt with in a comprehensive order. Vide note dated 31st October 1917. This was further worked up and after the necessary consultation with the Senior Surgeon, a draft order was put up dealing with the whole question and revising the scale of scholarships in all grades.

OFFICE OF THE SENIOR SURGEON.
MYSORE GOVT.,

D. O. No. C. Drs: 199/Ecn 1 Bangalore, 3rd April 191

Dear Sir,

I return herewith the statement of scholarships to candidates qualifying for different branches of the Medical Service. It contains all the information on the subject. I would however add the following suggestions.

Sub Assistant Surgeon's Scholarships.- Although a proposal has recently been submitted by me to Government on the representation of our medical pupils studying in Madras, to raise the rate of their scholarship to Rs15/- yet I think that the conditions of living have become hard all over and that this rate may justly be adopted in the case of the two students studying in Poona as also in the case of those studying in the local medical school. Their does not seem to be any reason for fixing different rates for the 1st year and for the subsequent 3 years of the course, a distinction probably justified at a time when the 1st year's course was allowed to be undergone in ~~any~~ medical Local Institutions, the subsequent year's course alone being taken in the Madras Institution. Thus a uniform rate of Rs. 15/- per mensem mensem for males and Rs. 20 for females may be fixed for all the 4 years of the course.

Sick-Nursing. - The course for Probationery Nurses is intended for training of candidates required for duty in Institutions like the Victoria Hospital where a higher standard of training is needed. As candidates of sufficient general educational qualifications cannot be had for the present rate of pay Rs. 15/- the pay of Probationery Nurses may be raised to Rs. 20/- which is not much, since they will be eligible for posts with a starting pay of Rs. 45 rising to Rs. 60.

Midwifery. - Seeing that illiterate pupils sent by the Malnad Committees are given a stipend of Rs. 15, it would help to induce literate women to come forward to study midwifery if the State Scholarships for Midwifery Course be fixed at Rs. 15/- for 12 months instead of Rs. 10/- at present.

DIARY No.

Dear Sir,

With reference to our conversation last Tuesday about fixing the number and rates of the scholarships to be made annually available for candidates desiring to undergo professional training ~~for appointments~~ in the several grades of the Medical ~~Department~~ profession, I note below the particulars of the scholarships that may be alloted to meet the probable needs of the Department or the State.

I may perhaps add, in this connection, that the Order of Government No.1112-4/Edn.37-18, dated 2nd instt., seems to need a reconsideration as regards differentiation in the rates of scholarships therein fixed in the case of Graduates (Rs.40/-) and under-graduates (Rs.30/-). Applications are invited only from Graduates, and it is in the absence of graduates that applications from under-graduates are considered. The cost of education, maintenance, and other expenditure to be incurred by medical students (whether graduates or non-graduates) and the standard of the training being the same, I think that the rate of scholarship should be fixed at the uniform rate of Rs.40, for both classes of applicants.

Yours sincerely,

Senior Surgeon.
